- Consumer Quality Mark:

The decisive factor in the success or failure of companies is the quality of their products. No matter how innovative and creative the marketing and communication strategies of a company may be, at the end of the day, potential buyers want products to meet or exceed their expectations.

These expectations are high, without exception: manufacturers and retailers are required to adopt standards in many areas, including safety, consistency, and sustainability. Moreover, they expect the production process to be transparent, in such a way that the product can be traced back to clearly identifiable suppliers. Our range of GA-Marks for Products takes into account the scale and diversity of these expectations, and provides solutions for every link in the supply chain. We perform product inspection, validation and certification.

- Green Environment and Energy Label:

A green company is a company that succeeds in minimizing its negative impact upon the environment. As global warming continues apace and becomes an increasingly “hot” topic amongst world governments, many companies are doing their part to become more environmentally responsible. In such a situation, company managers need to know the effects of products manufactured in their company upon the environment. Managers must find ways to distinguish themselves from competitors by offering products and services that conform to ecological standards. Would you like to show the world that you care? The GA-Mark offers third-party confirmation of your eco-friendliness, based upon an on-site assessment. The GA-Mark for Certified Green Company:

1. Provides third-party confirmation of minimal impact
2. Documents measures to reduce impact
3. Builds upon ISO 14001 /ISO 50001
4. Can be used to improve the reputation of a company
